

21 November 2003

SEOS EARNS SUSSEX BUSINESS AWARD

Last night SEOS received the trophy for the University-Business Partnership Award at the Sussex Business Awards Ceremony, held at the Copthorne Effingham Park Hotel, nr. Gatwick, UK.

This award recognises the most effective partnership between a business and a university or higher educational establishment in Sussex. SEOS has enjoyed a close relationship with local universities spanning fourteen years, resulting in the launch of many new products and employment of a number of students who are significantly contributing to the success of the company.

David Lewis, Market Development Manager, SEOS, collected the award on behalf of the company. He said, "This award reinforces the great relationships we have had with the universities and the mutual benefits which have been reaped over the last fourteen years. I hope that we will continue to work together for many more".

ABOUT SEOS

SEOS is a leading global supplier of display and immersive solutions for simulation and visualization, delivering advanced solutions for the civil and military, training and research, visualization, leisure and entertainment markets.

SEOS has established a worldwide reputation for supplying innovative, high quality, cost-effective display solutions combined with a high level of expertise and exceptional service. A comprehensive range of services and unequalled design system integration capability provide a display solution that is custom designed and built for its application.

For further information please contact us.