SEOS WINS INNOVATION IN EXPORT AWARD

On 7 November, at a ceremony in London, UK, SEOS was awarded the trophy for Innovation in Export at the International Business Awards 2005.

The International Business Awards, organized by Export Times and UK Trade & Investment, are part of a unique initiative celebrating, recognizing and rewarding excellence amongst UK exporters.

The awards were open to all companies from small niche market operators to large corporate players – whose drive, initiative and expertise have allowed them to succeed in the global marketplace. Awards were judged by independent judges comprising City fund managers, business leaders and representatives from the press.

The independent panel of judges concluded SEOS had successfully established a global presence built on a reputation for the supply of innovative, high quality and cost effective products that were delivered through an equally innovative business strategy that identifies global barriers and sets out to creatively address new markets.

Commenting, Simon Veale, Sales and Marketing Director of sponsors DHL Express said, “It has been an extraordinary year for international trade. British businesses operating in overseas markets have had to deal with the enormous impact that recent world events have had on the export market. It is through strategic planning and an unrivalled commitment to business development that companies like SEOS have positively succeeded in otherwise challenging markets.”

Owen Wynn, Executive Chairman, SEOS, accepted the award on behalf of SEOS. He said, “SEOS offers innovative solutions to a highly specialized market. The development and growth of the export market remains central to our business and I am proud to accept the award on behalf of the whole organization.”
